EXPERIENCE

Project Backboard (nationwide and some international work)

2018-Present

This is a self contracted relationship in which Project Backboard has empowered and positioned me to lead court art installations, court refurbishments, client retention, and Artist relations. Under the umbrella of Project Backboard since 2018 I've contributed to nearly 40 courts around the country in a myriad of communities and economically challenged locations.

Veniceball (Los Angeles CA)

2018-2021

Business and Production Manager for the legendary street basketball brand Veniceball. During this tenure many hats were worn and every inch of the business learned and covered. Responsibilities included talent acquisition and management, event planning, event permitting, brand relations, managing small team of staff, merchandise production and processing, customer relations, and so much more. This was a crash course experience that was not only an education but a roller coaster of incredible heights as well as managing very difficult lows.

Artist

2016-Present

Through my upbringing, the game of basketball, and a craving for creativity in sport art has found me. The first piece of artwork I ever made was in my senior year of high school at Paso Robles High. Subsequently that was also the first one I ever sold. I abandoned that itch for a few years until it chased me down while going through my adventures in Veniceball. From there I've now sold numerous basketball centered creations as well had the opportunity to collaborate with dozens of amazing artists around the country and design some of my own courts which can be played and enjoyed today!
